

Final Response

January 27, 2019

Dear Applicant:

Re: Your request for access to information under Part II of the Access to Information and Protection of Privacy Act, 2015 - FLR-153-2019

On November 27, 2019 the Department of Fisheries and Land Resources (FLR) received your request for access to the following records:

"I am writing today as a concerned taxpayer who would like to know where the money that was going to be used towards the Little Bay of Islands cat rescue efforts has gone. I would like to know how much had been budgeted towards the trapping, vetting and euthanasia of the cats, expenses such as the salary for all the staff who would have needed to be involved, transportation for the cats to wherever they ended up, the cost of specialized trapping equipment from Tomahawk such as traps, transfer cages and divider Forks, and so on and so forth. Honourable Gerry Byrne responded to an email that expressed concern for these animals before rescue organizations stepped in stating "...our veterinarians had been working with a private practice veterinarian and team of dedicated staff with the unique skills and experience in dealing with feral cats to develop a plan to address this situation. The team was planning to travel to Little Bay Islands to ensure the cats were safely trapped and assessed to determine suitability for adoption – with those considered good candidates brought to animal shelters – or, if necessary, humanely euthanized." IF they had to go through with their plan, how much money would have been used to cover this? Rescue groups from our province and the province of Nova Scotia have taken care of this matter saving the government money AND taking better care of these animals than the government had originally planned. The funds that were going to be used for this effort should rightfully be donated to the rescue groups who have taken on these animals. Volunteering their time, resources, and taking on the financial responsibility to get these cats vetted."

Please be advised that after completing a full search the Deputy Minister for FLR confirms there are no responsive records.
