Dear

Re: Your request for access to information under Part II of the Access to Information and Protection of Privacy Act, 2015 [JPS/23/2020]

On February 19, 2019, the Department of Justice and Public Safety (JPS) received your request for access to the following records:

“The Final Report of the Newfoundland and Labrador Electoral District Boundaries Commission explains how 2011 census data was used to estimate the population of the electoral districts at pp. 7 to 8: "Statistics Canada reports its census population in geographical units. The primary unit Statistics Canada uses for reporting is a Census Subdivision or CSD, which is typically a municipality or a geographical area deemed equivalent to a municipality for statistical purposes. In most cases, the Commission enclosed full CSDs within proposed district boundaries so that the population could be readily established. However, in many cases it was necessary to divide CSDs into smaller geographical units called "dissemination blocks." This occurred primarily in urban districts. A dissemination block is the smallest geographical area for which Statistics Canada reports population and dwelling counts. Dissemination blocks were used to determine accurately the population within a divided CSD where it is intersected by a proposed district boundary. In two cases, however, to determine the proposed district populations it was necessary to split dissemination blocks in order to estimate the number of people living on each side of a proposed boundary for the initial proposal. These estimates were provided by the statistical analysts who worked with the Commission." I would like to know, for each electoral district, (1) which full CSDs are included within it; (2) which full dissemination blocks are included within it; and (3) where an electoral district includes partial dissemination blocks, which, and how the dissemination blocks were divided.”

Please be advised that a decision has been made by the Deputy Minister of JPS to provide access to the requested information. However, it was not available in the format requested.

Please be advised that you may ask the Information and Privacy Commissioner to review the processing of your access request as set out in section 42 of the Act (a copy of this section has been enclosed for your reference). A request to the Commissioner must be made in writing not later than 15 business days of the date of this letter or a longer period that may be allowed by the Commissioner.

The appeal may be addressed to the Information and Privacy Commissioner as follows:

Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner

Toll-Free: 1-877-729-6309

Please be advised that this request will be published three business days after the response is sent electronically to you or five business days in the case where records are mailed to you.
