Linda

As we discussed, there is a hunting outfitter, Chuck Rawding, located south of the Redmond property who may not have been directly consulted during the preparation of your EIS. He is the owner of “Labrador Hunting Safari”. http://www.labradorhuntingsafari.com/

Can you tell me if this person was consulted with directly or if there is any record of him making any presentation or comment at any of your public meetings?

Thanks.

Attention: Mr. Paul Rideout

Dear Paul,

Reference: Schefferville Area Iron Ore Area Mine: Labrador Hunting Safari

Further to your e-mails dated Thursday, February 18th, 2010, requesting clarification as to whether LIM had consulted with Mr. Rawding of Labrador Hunting Safari (LHS) directly or if there is any record of him making any presentation or comment at any of our public meetings, Labrador Iron Mines Limited (LIM) is pleased to provide this letter of response.

Further to this request, LIM presents the following summary of consultation with Mr. Rawding:

- During the summer 2008, an Associate Professor of Anthropology at Carleton University, Mr. Paul Thibaudeau, worked in coordination with LIM’s VP of Community Consultation, Mr. Joseph Lanzon, to conduct onsite interviews and research of community issues in the project area. These interviews, conducted during the period prior to the completion of the Minister’s review of LIM’s registration document and issuance of the EIS track decision, included attempts to contact Labrador Hunting Safari (LHS) by telephone. According to Mr. Thibaudeau, LHS’ number provided in the local business directory was not in service at this time.
- On August 14, 2008, Mr. Rawding met with LIM representatives in Schefferville to discuss... further discussed the possibility of LIM’s use of his properties at Chantal and Squaw Lakes as an option for the worker’s accommodations. LIM’s representatives, Joseph Lanzon and Rodrigue McKenzie, provided Mr. Rawding with recommendations for follow-up, including contact with Gestion Innu, a local business firm.

- On August 19, 2008, LIM’s representative, Joseph Lanzon, contacted Gestion Innu to discuss Mr. Rawding’s and workers’ accommodations proposal. Gestion Innu’s representative, Mr. Jean Marc Robert, confirmed to Mr. Lanzon that they were familiar with Mr. Rawding, had conducted communication with Mr. Rawding on LIM’s behalf to scope these opportunities and would pursue further discussions on behalf of LIM.

- The potential use of outfitter camps and properties as worker accommodations, and specifically including a reference to the Labrador Hunting Safari property at Squaw Lake option under discussion, was included in the original LIM EIS, submitted for Departmental and public review in December 2008. This document was the basis of the public meetings conducted in December 2008 in Schefferville, Labrador West and Goose Bay, which were widely advertised. To our knowledge, no comments were received from the public about the outfitters properties or operations in relation to the LIM project.

- Additional discussions were held between LIM’s local community contact representative in Schefferville, Rodrigue McKenzie, in 2009, as Mr. Rawding was located adjacent to a property occupied by LIM. Mr. Rawding and Mr. McKenzie are also familiar to each other as a result of hunting activities in the area and so communicated frequently. On July 3, 2009, Rodrigue McKenzie had a meeting with Mr. Rawding to discuss LIM’s project and ongoing developments. At this time, Mr. Rawding was also recommended to contact either Joseph Lanzon or Linda Wrong for further information about the project.

Upon receipt of your e-mail indicating Mr. Rawding’s concerns regarding consultation, Mr. Terence McKillen of LIM contacted Mr. Rawding by telephone on Thursday, February 18, 2010 and, at this time, Mr. Rawding indicated that he would provide further information to LIM for consideration and discussion. This information has not been received at this office. During the telephone conversation, Mr. Rawding indicated that he was actually concerned about the NML project, not the LIM project.

In conclusion, LIM confirms that there has been extensive consultation with Mr. Rawding of Labrador Hunting Safari since 2008, including personal meetings, telephone calls and the 4 publicly advertised public commentary periods for the Schefferville Area Iron Ore Project Environmental Assessment process. It is further confirmed that, during all of the consultation opportunities during this period, no negative comments or concerns were identified by Mr. Rawding to LIM about LIM’s Schefferville Area Iron Ore project. Based on Mr. McKillen’s recent telephone discussions with Mr. Rawding, it seems that Mr. Rawding’s recent communication of concerns was precipitated by the imminent closing of the NML EIS public consultation period.

We appreciate the opportunity to provide this additional information and will continue to privately follow-up with Mr. Rawding, as required. Please do not hesitate to contact us should you have any questions.

Sincerely,

LABRADOR IRON MINES LIMITED
Hello Juanita

With regard to the assessment of the LIM and NML mining proposals, the only real concern regarding caribou and potential impact that might not be mitigated was the question of whether or not woodland caribou use the area. That was the focus of Wildlife's concern, woodland caribou being a threatened species in Newfoundland and Labrador. Because the issue is still not clear (do woodland caribou use this area?) the companies are required to use a mitigation plan that assumes all animals in the area are woodland caribou. This involves a higher level of monitoring and disturbance avoidance on behalf of the company. Work is ongoing to determine whether any woodland caribou use this area.

I have reviewed the paper trail on this and I note that we did not receive comments from Tourism until July 8, 2008, which was 35 days after the Minister’s deadline. The response indicated that the mining proposal should be released from Environmental Assessment but did note that the company should consult with Chuck Rawding. Because this was late in arriving, this specific comment (mentioning Chuck Rawding) did not go to the proponent when the Minister advised that an EIS would be required.

In spite of this I believe that there was adequate opportunity for Mr. Rawding to consult with LIM and NML and to make his concerns known. Public meetings were held in the area and notices were posted about the EA process on the government web site. LIM has also indicated that they have had contact with Mr. Rawding since 2008.

I understand Mr. Rawding’s frustration, made very clear in his note below but I believe he would have a difficult time proving that mining exploration activity in this area is the reason why hunting success has declined.

Juanita,

The LIM project has cleared EA some time ago and I don't recall this issue coming to light during that review but I will refer to Paul as I have already discussed with him.

The EA for the NML project is complete. I am not aware that this issue from Mr. Rawding was raised during that review. Notwithstanding, the EA review of both projects did not reveal significant impacts on caribou but I will also confirm this with Paul.
Hi Bas,

There has been some ongoing challenges with our outfitter, as you can see from the e-mails below. What is the status on the EA process for LIM/NML?

Thank you

Juanita

Dear Sir,

In response to your message below

1) I did not have a telephone conversation with you to debate the number of animals in the George River Herd, or to discuss my clients' "kills" pre-2005. I was simply making the point that I had a very sustainable business prior to the start of mining exploration etc.

2) As I discussed with you before... Collar readings over the past five years support this. Perhaps we could examine the results of an intensive survey conducted on the effects the construction of the Hope Brook gold mine had on the woodland caribou. It was conducted over 70 months and involved 81 helicopter flights...bottom line...caribou responded to mine disturbance in all seasons, and in all phases, including pre-construction. Can you name one place on this planet where mining and developmental activities co-exist in harmony with "wilderness adventures"? I realize and acknowledged that NML contributed to these CUMULATIVE EFFECTS as well...precisely why I addressed both companies simultaneously.

3) Contrary to what you have written below...my camps ARE located on or near your mineral claims. You have been trying to "understand" my position for months now. What exactly do you not "understand"? It's very simple...I can no longer conduct my business as I have in the past. I have been conducting hunts in the AREA of your mineral claims for well over a decade now. I KNOW WITH UNCERTAINTY where aces are located and what distance is involved from Point A to Point B.

4) I think I have made it pretty clear and in plain English how LIM/NML can assist. I HAVE LOST THREE LICENSED ESTABLISHMENTS AND NEED TO REPLACE THEM WITH PRODUCTIVE SITES TO ACCOMMODATE MY GUESTS. IF I DON'T GET RELOCATED I AM OUT OF BUSINESS. I AM ASKING LIM/NML TO ABSORB THE COST OF RELOCATING MY CAMPS AND TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE FOR THE UPCOMING SEASON. I cannot make that any more clear to you.

Charles Rawding/Labrador Hunting Safari
Dear Mr. Rawding:

Following our telephone conversation of May 4, 2010, we understood that you would be providing us with detailed information to support your position including but not necessarily limited to:

- Your observations that the caribou population around Schefferville was in excess of 500,000 animals pre-2005
- Evidence of your client’s caribou “kills” of 150-300 animals per season pre-2005
- How you perceive the exploration work of Labrador Iron Mines Limited may have affected your business
- What other factors that may have influenced the migration pattern of the caribou
- A copy of your permit to operate in Labrador
- A detailed outline of your proposed plans for this season and why you feel LIM might assist given that your camps are not on or near LIM’s mineral claims

Upon receipt of such information we might be able to better understand your position.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. McKillen,

Further to your letter dated April 23, 2010 and also our telephone conversation of today’s date which included you, myself, and Joseph Lanzon, I wish to confirm the following points of our discussion.

As an overall summary of the conversation, your first comments were to advise that the lack of caribou in the Schefferville area could have been the result of “overhunting”. You stated in your letter of April 23rd that “caribou are very limited in that area and have been for a number of years”. As you explained during our conversation, this information was gained by “talking to the elders” of the Native community, and as I pointed out, Labrador Hunting Safari had been successfully hunting that area since the latter part of the 1990’s. This fact can be supported by the collar readings over the past five years, along with

Although you have been provided with a map of our camp locations by both myself and Tourism, you still maintain that your company’s operations are not located in our “area”. As I explained to you, I had been conducting over 90% of my hunts within the Labrador borders as defined by, and known as, the two “fingers” of Labrador, since the 1990’s. We do not simply hunt from the front door of the camp, and A physical visit to what you referred to as our “so-called camps” with you, or one of your senior representatives, would certainly put the matter to rest, and I would be more than willing to do that while in Labrador this season.

Another matter which was discussed was the discrepancies surrounding the information that has been provided to the NL government, although you did not offer any comments in this regard. It has been implied that your company tried unsuccessfully to contact our office; that information which was requested from us was never received, and that we have had previous “extensive consultations” with your officials regarding our situation, which were referred to in my e-mail dated April 26th, and I have included in this correspondence, a letter which was sent to Todd Kent on March 12, 2010 to clarify the facts. Mr. Lanzon’s one and only comment during the entire telephone conversation was to point out that we had in fact met in August 2009. The “meeting” consisted of a simple introduction by name only (not position), while next door to your office, and lasted approximately three minutes. Had I been aware of his position in your firm, I would have requested a formal meeting to discuss my concerns.

As I had pointed out in my letter dated February 16, 2010 to both your company and New Millennium Capital Corp., Although your initial reaction was to deny any form of partnership with NML, it is clear you are working collaboratively with them on the railroad line upgrades, as well as in the exchange of mineral licenses in Labrador. Both agreements were publically announced in October 2009, therefore it would be impossible to deny that there is some form of partnership currently taking place.

You have requested that we submit an “impact statement” to your firm outlining how our company has been negatively affected. It is very simple: and we have all the records and/or receipts required to support that claim. We have requested the support of the NL government in this respect, and include the letter we received from Juanita Keel-Ryan, Director of Outdoor Product, NL Dept. of Tourism.

With our season fast approaching, time is of the essence, as I am sure it is with your future plans. We have already been forced to cancel guests in 2008 and again in 2009 due to the lack of productivity in our established locations, and wish to service those bookings which are slated for this season. I am therefore requesting that you provide a written response outlining Labrador Iron Mines’ official position in this matter.

Thanking you in advance for your anticipated reply, I remain,

Yours truly,

Dear Todd,

Re: Labrador Iron Mines

Further to your e-mail correspondence of yesterday’s date, please accept this letter as an official reply to the points you have outlined regarding the above company. I wish to confirm the following facts:

- LIM has been in contact with us only ONCE regarding the matter at hand. We were contacted by a Mr. T. McKillen on February 18, 2010, the morning after they received our letter, and he asked for a map showing our camp locations. That was provided to him immediately, and I have furnished you with a copy of the e-mail confirming that information was sent as he requested.

- We have never heard of a Mr. Paul Thibadeau and do not know what his position is with the company. As we have held the same office telephone/fax numbers year round for the past twelve years. Our website/e-mail addresses have been the same for the past twelve years as well, and we are listed on several public sites, including the NL Tourism site.

- It is my understanding he is employed as a Safety Officer with LIM, and is not in a position to make decisions of this nature, or deal with the matter at hand.

- I did not meet with Mr. MacKenzie, or anyone else, on July 3rd, 2009 as I was in Nova Scotia. Again, I have never heard of Joseph Lanzon or Linda Wrong; these names were not provided to me at any time.

CARIBOU - BLACK BEAR - TROPHY FISHING
• As previously mentioned LIM rep T. McKillen did contact me on Feb. 18th and he was provided the information he requested, which was a map of our locations. At no time during our conversation did I indicate that I was only concerned with NML projects and not LIM’s projects.

• I can confirm that there have been no past consultations with LIM regarding my outfitting business, and I did specifically request a written response from them, but have yet to receive anything further. They have pledged to “continue” to follow up with me privately; however, there have been absolutely no past correspondences either verbally, or in writing from them.

• Whereas both the LIM and NML projects I have lost at least three major locations, and would like to re-establish three more to replace them.

I trust that this will clarify the points you have brought forward and I would be happy to address any further questions or concerns regarding this.

Thanking you in advance for your co-operation in this matter, I remain,

Yours truly,

Dear Mr. Rawding,

Thank you for copying me on your letter to New Millennium Capital Corporation and Labrador Iron Mines Ltd., stating your concerns regarding the negative impact on your outfitting business due to the mining and exploration activities taking place in the area of Labrador surrounding Schefferville, Quebec.

Please be advised that we have brought this matter up with the Department of Environment and Conservation who are also looking into the matter. We have expressed our concern and have indicated that the Department of Tourism Culture and Recreation is requesting that the mining companies involved, approach and consult with the outfitting businesses who may be impacted by mining activity in that area.

Please keep us informed on any developments regarding this matter.

Dear Mr. Martin,

Re: LabMag Iron Ore Project and Schefferville Area Projects

Further to our correspondence to you dated February 16, 2010 regarding the above noted projects and the negative impact they have had on my outfitting business, I am once again asking you for a written response as to the matter of compensation for my business losses. This situation is not new to you, as our concerns have been documented as far back as July 2005.

As stated in my letter of February 16th, we have asked for the support of the NL government in this regard, and accordingly, have included a copy of the letter we received from Juanita-Keel Ryan, Director of Tourism Product Development. Over the past five years you have acknowledged our concerns, and have repeatedly provided your “commitment to collaborate with all of the concerned citizens and organizations of Labrador to ensure the fullest possible compatibility of the LIOP with the environment, economy and culture of Labrador West”. My outfitting firm was identified as a “Potential Stakeholder” in July 2005, and while we provided Ms. Caroline Hong with a written request to be involved in consultation and information sessions, we were never once notified of any such activity. This was further confirmed in a letter to you dated September 6, 2006 from Wayne Watkins, NLOA VP, Labrador Hunting Sector. A copy of that letter was also distributed to various NL government departments. In July 2007 we corresponded with you to once again voice our ongoing concerns. In your reply of July 27, 2007 you stated that we could “count on you to do everything in your power to accommodate our concerns”, and acknowledged the fact that “despite being registered as a stakeholder, we were never contacted about public meetings or for input into a socio-economic impact assessment”. You further stated that we could “rest assured that if studies of the LIOP resumed, we would be contacted”. That did not happen either.

Whereas there are no longer any questions as to the viability and future of your operations, and I am once again requesting that your company provide a written response as to your intentions with regard to compensation.
As previously stated, I have spent the past twelve years of my life investing in, and expanding my business, to the point of being the foremost outfitter in the Labrador West region in terms of camp locations, equipment, and quantity of clientele.

I am therefore asking that you address my request with regards to compensation, and respond accordingly. You have expressed your willingness to address concerns over the past five years and assure me of your company’s good intentions.

Thanking you in advance for your anticipated response, I remain,

Yours truly,
