I believe the Minister has reviewed but I am not sure what results are.

Hello Minister Gambin-Walsh:
I am following up to enquire if there are any new developments on the appointments or re-appointments of members to our Council. I am aware that some existing members with expired terms have applied for re-appointments to the Appointments Commission.
I am hoping to schedule another council meeting for early December. There are focusses that I would like members be engaged on in the coming months.

Decision Note
Department of Children, Seniors and Social Development

Title: Membership on the Provincial Advisory Council on Aging and Seniors (PACAS)

Decision/Direction Required:
- Approval is sought on how to fill four vacant positions that came up for renewal on April 26, 2016; and

  Approval is sought on how to address the issue of nine appointments that will be up for renewal next December, including the chairperson

Background and Current Status:
- The Provincial Advisory Council on Aging and Seniors (PACAS) was established in March 2005.

  - The mandate of PACAS is to assist government in preparing for an aging population by ensuring that an older adult perspective is reflected in policy development and in planning for future service delivery. The Seniors and Aging Division serves as Secretariat to PACAS and covers expenses including travel for meetings.

  - It has been identified under the Transparency and Accountability Act as a Category 3 entity. The activities of PACAS are outlined in a 3-year Activity Plan and reported on annually.

  - The 13 members (12 members plus a Chairperson) are appointed to represent the older adult population of this province and are well-known to the communities and seniors within their respective geographical locales.

  - Prospective members must apply to the Independent Appointments Commission (IAC) and submit an application form to establish their qualifications for vacant positions.

  - The IAC Act was assented to on May 24, 2016 establishing the IAC with a view to providing merit-based recommendations for qualified individuals for appointment to Agencies, Boards and Commissions.

  - In filling vacancies, consideration is given to geography, cultural diversity, gender, background, experience and skills.

  - Members are appointed for terms of up to three years, by the Minister responsible for seniors (presently the Minister of Children, Seniors and Social Development). The IAC provides the Minister with a list of qualified candidates for appointment(s).

Analysis
- In April 2016 four members fulfilled their terms of appointment (see Annex A for details on members' terms).
The Independent Appointments Commission (IAC) has conducted a search soliciting candidates for the four present vacancies and a number of suitable candidates have emerged.

The terms of the remaining nine members expire in approximately one year.

Several members have been appointed more than two times. Three of these members have been in their present roles for more than eight years.

Since the inception of the Independent Appointments Commission this past May, many ABCs are reviewing their appointed memberships.

There has been some backlash in the media claiming political patronage in recent IAC recommended appointments. Media scrutiny of ABC appointments is high at this time.

When a decision is made all members of PACAS will be informed via a letter from the Minister.

Decision Note
Department of Children, Seniors and Social Development

Title: Membership on the Provincial Advisory Council on Aging and Seniors (PACAS)

Decision/Direction Required:
• Approval is sought on how to fill four vacant positions that came up for renewal on April 26, 2016; and

Approval is sought on how to address the issue of nine appointments that will be up for renewal in December, 2017, including the chairperson.

Background and Current Status:
• The Provincial Advisory Council on Aging and Seniors (PACAS) was established in March 2005 with a mandate to assist government in ensuring that a seniors' perspective is reflected in policy development and in planning for future service delivery. The Seniors and Aging Division serves as Secretariat to PACAS and covers expenses including travel for meetings.

• It has been identified under the Transparency and Accountability Act as a Category 3 entity. The activities of PACAS are outlined in a 3-year Activity Plan and reported on annually.

• The PACAS consists of 12 members plus a Chairperson. In filling vacancies, consideration is given to geography, cultural diversity, gender, background, experience and skills.

• Beginning 2016, prospective PACAS members must apply to the Independent Appointments Commission (IAC) to fill vacant positions. The IAC provides merit-based recommendations for qualified individuals for appointment to all Agencies, Boards and Commissions (ABCs).

• Members are appointed for terms of up to three years, by the Minister responsible for seniors (presently the Minister of Children, Seniors and Social Development). The IAC provides the Minister with a list of qualified candidates for appointment(s).

• In April 2016 four members terms expired (see Annex A).

• The terms of the remaining nine members, including the Chair expire on December 3, 2017. Several members have been appointed more than two times. Three of these members have been in their present roles for more than eight years.

• The Independent Appointments Commission (IAC) conducted a search soliciting candidates for the four vacancies and a number of recommended suitable candidates emerged (See Annex A). (Note: all four expired members applied for re-appointment.)

Analysis
• Since the inception of the Independent Appointments Commission this past May, many ABCs are reviewing their appointed memberships. Media scrutiny of ABC appointments is high at this time.

Please note that only this one page of Decision note was included in this document set. It is a slightly edited version of the DN on pages 26-30, however the remainder of this version has not been located.

The Provincial Advisory Council on Aging and Seniors advises government in preparing for an aging population by ensuring that a seniors’ perspective is reflected in policy development and in planning for future service delivery. The mandate of this Council is to advise and inform government on issues, concerns and needs of seniors. Council provides a mechanism for seniors to have a strong voice in the development of comprehensive programming to support the independence and well-being of an aging population.

Quotes
‘With our government’s enhanced focus on our older adults, the Provincial Advisory Council on Aging and Seniors provide a valuable resource, helping ensure seniors remain healthy, active, engaged citizens, and that they are always provided with the respect and dignity they deserve. I would like to thank outgoing council members Patricia Burton and Josephine Wadlon for their dedication and advice. I would also like to thank outgoing chair, Léo Bonnell, for his commitment, having served on the council in the capacity as chairperson for 10 years. The valuable input of council members is so important to advancing seniors issues.”
Honourable Sherry Gambin-Walsh
Minister of Children, Seniors and Social Development

"Representing a diverse cross-section of seniors, and other individuals who are familiar with seniors' issues, the council has been a strong voice throughout the province. For more than 10 years, the council has provided valuable input and sound advice. As our population continues to age, I look forward to contributing; working with council and the Minister in bringing seniors issues to the forefront."

Hello All:
As you have now heard appointments/re-appointments to Council have now been completed through Government’s new Appointments Commission. Going forward there will be some new faces around council table. Some existing members have been re-appointed for another term while others will have completed their obligation to council when their term of office expires in December 2017. Sec. 40 (1)

I am not sure when Government will be releasing the details on the new appointments/re-appointments. In this regard, my email to council members is in keeping with my consistent policy of always keeping members in the loop. The details should not be shared or discussed publicly until the Minister formally issues a press release.

Regards to all,

Leo
